REPRESENTED

Oswald, I really enjoyed watching you again! I've had the pleasure of seeing you perform several times over the past few showcases, and it's been wonderful to watch your growth and development as an actor. You continue to bring a natural and engaging quality to your work. Keep going—you're doing great!"

I loved how well you played off of Alina. The two of you had such wonderful chemistry, and you stayed connected and present with her throughout the entire scene. There was a confidence and professionalism to your performance that really stood out. You can tell you're a seasoned pro who knows how to listen, react, and share a scene with another actor. Really strong work!

Love watching you always mate, and solid work.

Looking good all suited up, and great work on the character and scene. Keep up the great work!

I'd pull the facial expressions back a little... at times they felt slightly too big, especially with the head movement like a bobble. A bit more variation in pacing would also help the scene feel more grounded and conversational.

strong confidence. smooth and flirty. great at trying different tactics to get what he wants. could use eyelines to see the imaginary props as the scene goes on. could bring some more authority

You looked like James Bond today! Like a true Hollywood leading man :) You kept the tone and attitude really mysterious and very interesting. Your moment before saying 'That was more than 60 pages' was very strong, you were very believable and you were very in the moment today, more so than I've ever seen you so this was so great to see! You stepped up your performance and have grown even more so I can't wait to see where your acting work takes you. Best of luck Oswald :)

Great job! Play the beginning a bit more dynamic. I think there's an opportunity for more levels.

Wonderful supporting role energy! You were the rock, allowing Alina's character to really shine. Loved the panic in your eyes without physically showing the panic outwardly.
