

Oswald Hunter — Consolidated Feedback

Generated: 2025-12-19 05:05

Date: 2025-12-13 18:58

VIP: Tanya Kleckner

Callback: No

Great camera set up - pick up the pace - nice work though with what you did with the character -

Date: 2025-12-13 18:58

VIP: Jackie Warden

Callback: No

I love how you use your whole body in your performance. Shows passion! Curious if you have a theatre background.

Date: 2025-12-13 18:58

VIP: Shasta Lutz, CDC

Callback: No

too aware you are on camera

way too long of a slate

you dont have to work this hard

u have good instincts be dialed down

never wear that shirt again:)

memorable good face

Date: 2025-12-13 18:59

VIP: sarah sheps/dan falk- mann casting

Callback: No

It was great to see you again in such a different character. Nice to see versatility. Something that felt a tiny bit affected, between both characters, was there was a little bit of a... uncertain stutter... that didn't feel a hundred percent genuine. Anyway that's a very nitpicky note. you did great.

Date: 2025-12-13 19:04

VIP: Dan Eisen - Director / Producer

Callback: No

Good character

Good clear intention

Good reactions

Date: 2025-12-13 19:06

VIP: Justine Hunt

Callback: No

Good connection and strong choices. Very nice arcs throughout. Well done.

Date: 2025-12-13 19:07

VIP: Emily Adcock

Callback: No

Nice job! Great character for you. Try and pronounce your words a little more.

Date: 2025-12-13 19:16

VIP: Amanda Mitro

Callback: Yes

Great range Oswald! Liked seeing the costume change, clearly helped you get into your character. Loved the desperation you held, so well done. You both elevated the other, which is a mark of great performers. I mentioned in Joel's feed back that you two would be fun to watch in a Sherlock/Moriarty scene and that I'd put Joel in Moriarty's character, but I'd really love to see what you'd both do in both roles to be honest!

Date: 2025-12-13 19:34
VIP: Derek James Trapp (DJT CASTING)
Callback: No

Love your life experience and makes you stand out to me.

Nice range in this character, and showing a whole new side of you. The part of the audition where you got intense, and your emotion changed was wonderfully done. The emotions were real, raw and intense and brilliant work mate. The tears at the very end too was extremely well done.

Date: 2025-12-13 20:09
VIP: Angela Quinn
Callback: No

Hi again Oswald! I really enjoyed this contrasting scene as this character was interpreted so well by you and I felt like you latched on to this one really well. I liked the desperation in your face and in your body language, it kept the scene grounded in reality. Good use of your voice and breathing. Really good work from you, thanks Oswald!

Date: 2025-12-13 20:34
VIP: Mara Santino
Callback: No

Love how he is playing a totally different character. Nicely done.

Date: 2025-12-13 22:48
VIP: Sean Kaufmann, Premier Artists' Management
Callback: No

manic energy works well. could still benefit from some stillness. varied his pacing which was a nice touch. played the ebbs and flows of energy and intention well. found different ways to ask and then changed tactics midstream. felt his desperation.

Date: 2025-12-13 22:54
VIP: Helene Rousse
Callback: No

Loved it , good scene character for you.

Date: 2025-12-15 15:20
VIP: Millie Tom
Callback: No

Great to see him do something different from the previous scene. You can tell how much he wants it.

Date: 2025-12-15 23:32
VIP: Molly Knight Casting
Callback: No

Wildly different performance, really well done. Very believable. Expressions and physicality were great.

Date: 2025-12-16 15:38
VIP: Melanie Watts
Callback: No

Oswald , I like what you did with this character, I felt your quiet desperation !

Date: 2025-12-17 16:30
VIP: Ian Ellemo
Callback: No

Hi Again Oswald! :) Nice costume change, very important. Love the "My name is Still Oswald" Always nice to throw some comedy into the mix! Nice scene work, well done, love your look as well! Nice energy at the end through the emotional part.

Date: 2025-12-19 05:05
VIP: Andre Blissett
Callback: Yes

You are the best! great job