

Sanjana Chippa (Option 1) — Consolidated Feedback

Generated: 2026-08-26 18:26

Date: 2026-08-22 17:18

VIP: Monika Dalman

Callback: No

This was very well done. I felt like you were experiencing the conversation with your scene partner for the first time and the reactions felt authentic.

Date: 2026-08-22 17:20

VIP: Helene Rousse

Callback: No

You definitively have the IT factor, keep it up

Date: 2026-08-22 17:26

VIP: Melanie Watts

Callback: Yes

INDIE

I really enjoyed your scene! You brought a natural and engaging quality to the performance, and I'd love to arrange a Zoom meeting to get to know you better, discuss your goals, and explore the possibility of representation. I'm looking forward to connecting

Date: 2026-08-22 17:35

VIP: Mallory Levy

Callback: No

Good work! I'd love to see you commit a bit more to the stuttering throughout the scene. There were moments where the pacing started to lag because of it, so really incorporating it into the rhythm of the character will help keep things moving. Also remember, it's not just about what your character wants—it's about how you're going to get it, and how your specific relationship with the other person affects the tactics you use. Keep that in mind as you continue working on the scene. Nice job!

Date: 2026-08-22 17:42

VIP: Derek James Trapp

Callback: No

Like the look, framing, background and lighting.

Great job on displaying the scared and sad emotion.

Fantastic acting, and keep it up! One of my favourite auditions.

Date: 2026-08-22 17:42

VIP: Brandi England

Callback: Yes

Beautiful, I believed you. Performance, pacing etc were all interesting, never a dull moment.

Date: 2026-08-22 17:42

VIP: Jefferson Jay

Callback: No

Intense! Nice job!

Date: 2026-08-22 17:47

VIP: Sean Kaufmann, Premier Artists' Management

Callback: No

great desperation and hurt in her eyes. intensity is great and natural. can feel how much she cares. listens well. conversational. great chemistry. emotional journey is epic. challenges each other well.

Date: 2026-08-22 17:49

VIP: Dan Eisen

Callback: No

Great focus and vocal dynamics

Try smiling where it makes sense and find humor even in dark moments to make your character more believable

This will give your character more emotional range

"Without a sense of humor, no one takes you seriously"

Date: 2026-08-22 17:56

VIP: Douglas Ewen

Callback: No

Great Framing. Great eyes and great eye line. great acting. Also, when she started it was like flipping on a switch. She is a pro. She was so excited with glasses on and then transformed into an actor in two seconds. That is also a super power.

Date: 2026-08-22 18:28

VIP: Angela Quinn

Callback: No

What a scene! Great material and a good challenge for you & your scene partner. The attitude and energy you gave your character were excellent. The anxiety in your eyes and in your body language was very believable. You stayed engaged from start to finish and this scene was so strong for you two. Excellent listening, excellent reacting...you impressed me today, really strong work so please keep it up! I will keep you in mind for future projects :)

Date: 2026-08-22 20:46

VIP: Day'nah Cooper-Evans (Echelon Talent Development)

Callback: No

You are beautiful! You do a great job. listening. Let her pull you into a bit of an argument. When she turns it up on you don't be afraid to defend yourself. She's really coming for you. Try allowing yourself to go there with her and then calm down a bit and keep moving between the two. It's more compelling to see you try to keep a lid on your reaction than to just submit to her. You understand she's upset and why but she is making some really awful accusations against you.

Date: 2026-08-25 13:19

VIP: Millie Tom

Callback: No

Is she playing "canadian accent"?? Impressive! They both play well off of each other. This scene could have been very dramatic and over the top and it felt grounded and real. Lovely scene for both scene partners. So watchable

Date: 2026-08-26 18:26

VIP: Summer Weiler - Star Talent Inc.

Callback: Yes

Stunning on camera! You developed this character well. I really got a sense of who she was, just remember to stay in character and don't lose her. Loved your last line "Don't test me". Strong performance!