Excellent appearance and perfectly lit.

Nicely grounded and good eyeline.

I like the character's energy and your active listening was great!

great face

a bit forced / one note

smart choice not to play whole thing to camera

Good work. Great interpretation of the character. Felt really confident and knowledgeable. I would maybe give the character a little more of an edge.

Great voice control. Love how you are listening to what you are being told. Great eyeline. USE OF A PROP!!!! THANK You! Go watch Dustin Hoffman movies; you would crush roles like that. You are talented, very talented. I was so impressed, it's hard to bust on you lol, but I will think of something because I want to help you go further, because that was incredible. I am back, go try a lot of comedy so you can challenge yourself. I think you know "where you fit" but go challenge that, get outside the box, be ready for anything. You are going places!

The beginning pacing was a little slow but by time the arc hit the energy and tone matched and it ended very strong

Great personification of your character. Really liked the prop usage, really sold the character. I'd like to see more, reminds me of Sterling K. Brown. Great reactions to your scene partner, that's gold!

Solid work Shawn,. and I could see you playing a wide range of roles.

Loved every word of delivery, and the emotions the whole way through. Keep up the solid work all around!

You have a great on-camera look Shawn! Really nice focus in your scene today, I truly felt like I was in the room with you. Excellent eyeline, excellent listening, and I really enjoyed your tone. If you're going to incorporate a prop make sure to fully use it so really take a drink from the mug if we're going to see it. You were dressed suitably and were very prepared with a good understanding of your character. Great work today and I wish you the best in 2026 :)

Good work. I liked how you underplayed the character, considering what you wanted from the scene/character you are dealing with.

Solid slate, great job, very positive and pro! Camera could be a tad higher, seemed just a bit too low. Getting picky here.. Eyeline and focus was solid, you were very well focused as being in the moment and in your character, nice.
